

Core Principles of Lokrum Fields

Introduction

This document records the core principles underlying the ethos and operation of Lokrum Fields, as agreed by the Founding Team prior to the school coming into existence.

Student profile

Lokrum Fields is for students who:

- Have a diagnosis of autism or present with characteristics consistent with autism, or present with SEMH needs such as anxiety, sensory needs or low mood which may be co-morbid with autism.
- Have the academic ability to follow an age-appropriate curriculum although may have gaps in their learning, for example due to school absence or failed placements.
- Are unable to successfully access mainstream education, for example due to difficulties with class sizes, moving around the building, the sensory environment, interpersonal difficulties or variability of staffing.
- Are unlikely to display challenging behaviour which would impact on other students or themselves.
- Have, or are being assessed for, an EHCP.
- Need a supportive, flexible and nurturing learning environment.
- Require a personalised approach to education.

Core vision

- Our vision is to provide an inspirational, personalised and creative environment to help students fulfil their academic and personal potential.
- Our student-centred provision will promote independence and resilience through a broad, balanced and stimulating individualised curriculum.
- The students will thrive in the calm and nurturing surroundings where they can focus on enjoying their school experience and realising their aspirations.

Core ethos

At Lokrum Fields:

- Every student can learn, make a contribution and achieve their potential.
- We will work in co-production with students, families and professionals to tailor the provision to each student's individual needs and interests.
- We will identify barriers to learning and design the provision to remove these barriers.
- Students and staff will show each other mutual respect and kindness.

Core Principles of Lokrum Fields

- Students will benefit from a peaceful, calm environment with low sensory input.
- Easy access to the outdoors will enhance social times and learning experiences.
- Therapy will be integrated into the school day and across the curriculum.

Working with families

- Families will be key to transition planning, providing insights into each student's interests, strengths, triggers, aspirations, communication needs and successful strategies for support.
- Staff will communicate with parent / carers daily.
- Formal meetings (at least termly) will be used to assess, plan, do, review, in full cooperation with parents, students and other stakeholders. Details will be recorded in Individualised Ambition Pathways.
- Professional reports and the views of parents and students will be circulated at least two weeks in advance of any EHCP reviews.
- Parent workshops will be available, covering areas such as behaviour, anxiety, communication and assertiveness.
- Social events will be provided to celebrate success, make family activities accessible, provide peer support, and facilitate stability and aspiration in family life.
- The curriculum will be planned to involve the family and support access to the community.

Ambition to achieve

Lokrum Fields will offer:

- Skilled and experienced teaching and support staff.
- A broad and balanced curriculum based on but not restricted by the national curriculum.
- Teaching by subject specialists.
- A flexible approach to learning which reflects each student's strengths and interests.
- A comprehensive range of recognised qualifications including GCSEs and BTEC.
- Meaningful work experience.
- Preparation for adulthood and independence.

Ambition to enrich

Lokrum Fields will offer:

- A student-centred approach, working collaboratively with parents/carers.
- Integrated therapy delivered by onsite teams, supporting students and staff.
- Enrichment experiences such as day visits, community activities and Duke of Edinburgh's Award.

Core Principles of Lokrum Fields

- An environment carefully designed to remove barriers to learning, including small classes, sensory spaces for calming and relaxation, communal and individual areas, easy access to outside space and outdoor learning areas.

Integrated therapy

- Lokrum Fields will offer therapeutic support as an integrated part of the everyday provision.
- We will involve a range of professionals to support staff, students and families to maximize engagement, impact and progress across all aspects of development.
- Expert advice will inform and train staff on a continuous basis, adapted to the needs of the current cohort.
- Support staff with relevant areas of expertise will be trained to deliver therapies under the supervision of the therapists.
- Strategies and interventions will be delivered and reinforced consistently throughout the school day.
- Additional therapies will be commissioned as identified in the EHCP.
